

WEIL, GOTSHAL & MANGES^{LLP}

General Partner of the Common Law Society

Common Law Review

Comparative legal journal focusing on Czech and Anglo-American law announces*

CALL FOR PAPERS

on

Environmental law

Be one step ahead of others!
Your article in our law journal is your ticket to success!

- Class Action in Environmental Law: Utopia or a Pipe-Dream
- Aarhus Convention and the Administrative Proceedings: Useful Sword or Shield
- Enforcement of Environment Protection through Criminal Law
- It Is All about Money: Economic Instruments of Environmental Protection
- Environmental Protection and Public Interest: Expropriation in the Name of Tomorrow
- Science and Environmental Law - a Non-Functioning Marriage?
- Emission Trading: Where Do We Go?
- Fault or Strict Liability: Shift to More Lenient Liability Test in Environmental Law?
- The Precautionary Principle: Better Safe Than Sorry?
- Financial Security: Fresh Breeze with the Environmental Liability Directive
- Interim Relief in Environmental Cases: Fight against the Windmill?
- Funding of Environmental Case: Pebble or Sisyphus Stone?
- EIA: A Mere Formality?
- EU Environmental Liability Directive: Step in the Right Direction?
- Playing Ping-Pong with Liability: When Neither Parent Nor Subsidiary Want to Bear Responsibility
- GMO: Who Should be Hold Liable if It Goes Wrong?
- You Got a Ban! Trade And Environmental Protection Measures
- More Causes of the Damage and Multiple Tortfeasors: Reducing the Burden of Proof on Causation
- Scope of Strict Liability: State of Art and Other Defenses
- Tort Law and Environmental Protection: Fight with the Windmills?
- Transboundary Pollution: Question of Jurisdiction and Governing Law
- Compensating Nobody or All: Liability for Damage to Natural Resources
- The Tragedy of the Commons: 40 Years Later
- Past Contamination: Who Is Going to Pay for Our History?
- Administrative Enforcement of the EU Environmental Law: A Pipe-Dream?
- Hunters and Birds: Who Should Prevail
- Challenging the Member State or EU for Infringement of the EU Environmental Law: Does Locus Standi Shuts the Door?
- Waste: What Is It?
- Integrated Product Policy: Right Answer for Our Future?
- Enforcement of Biodiversity Legislation
- Can Human Rights Help Us to Live Clean?
- New Guidelines of the EU Commission on Environmental State Aid: Who will Gain and Who will Lose?
- Waste: Do it and Leave it?
- Eco Labelling and Auditing: Is Customer's Choice Protecting the Environment Better?

If you have chosen your topic or you have your own idea from the area of environmental law, please send it to Petr Zákoucký or Margarita Kukharchuk at commonlawreview@gmail.com by 15 March 2008, if possible. You will be assigned an editor together with guidelines for the completion of your article. The deadline for the submission of your draft and final article is 10 April and 1 May 2008 respectively.

If your article is accepted by the Editorial Board, it will be published, together with up to 13 other articles, during the winter semester of 2008-2009, both in a hardcopy and on the webpage of The Common Law Review at <http://review.society.cz/>

NEW FEATURE: If you do not have a clear idea about a topic, please consult our webpage under Call for Papers where you will find a short summary of each topic, together with a suggestion of starting point literature and case law. If you do not want to write an article, we can also accept two or three short comments about an interesting recent environmental law case (whether from Central or Eastern Europe or common law). Please consult our webpage about the format of your submission.